The psalmist said "It is a good thing to give thanks unto the LORD". We have much for which we are thankful. God has provided for us throughout our deputation. What's more, when Jennifer had emergency surgery in October outside of the umbrella of health insurance, God provided for our financial needs through the sacrifices of His people and through the benevolence of the hospital. Our bills are paid in full! However, this took tremendous mental, emotional, and physical tolls on all of us. October and November were very difficult months for us because of the difficulties brought on by the medical emergency and by Jennifer's ankle that was sprained in Muleshoe, TX. In many ways we were not up to our fullest potential. Thank the Lord that His people are gracious!

Although Australians do not celebrate Thanksgiving, many will make one of two yearly church attendances at Christmas. They will celebrate a small child in a manger and will leave services never knowing the resurrected Lord Jesus. They will rest in the false hope that because they were baptized in the church as a child, they are spiritually safe. How ironic is it that the very One they celebrate will one day tell them that He never knew them. Just the tiniest fraction of Aussies represents true born-again believers who have a relationship with Jesus.

We will begin travelling again just after Christmas. We will travel to Western Colorado and Utah for several appointments. Please pray for our safe journeys due to the expected inclement weather in and around the mountains. Please also pray that our support level will reach such a level that we can obtain health insurance for the family. Furthermore, pray that God will allow Krista to raise the necessary support to take a mission trip to Darwin, Australia to work with the missionaries there over the coming summer. Due to the nature of our travel, she is unable to get a job to pay for the trip. Finally, please pray for the many churches that we have visited and will visit. Virtually all of them have expressed a desire to take part in the ministry that God has entrusted to us, but they are financially unable to do so.
